YOUR ACCA JOURNEY

Practical Experience Requirement (PER) - three years' practical experience

ACCA DIPLOMA ACCOUNTING AND BUSINESS (RQF LEVEL 4)

Who is this for?

This qualification would have relevance for:

- those planning to work in, or are already in a wide ranging and responsible accounting role in a small to medium organisation
- those involved in financial reporting and/or in financial decision-support roles, possibly in supervisory roles in the accounting departments of larger organisations
- anyone performing financial manager or supervisory roles in accounts payable and/or receivable, or a financial manager role in fixed asset accounting in financial shared service centres. As a manager, the learner needs a broader knowledge of business organisations and of managing people in addition to rounded accounting skills, both in financial and management accounting
- students carrying out a technician role in a commercial organisation which has good internal training and requires examined knowledge to complement this training programme

Eligibility Criteria

To be awarded the ACCA Diploma in Accounting and Business (RQF Level 4), learners must have successfully completed all examinations (at least one of which must have been sat and passed) and have completed the Foundations in Professionalism module.

Key Knowledge/Skills Assessed

- Introduction to the business organisation within a political, economic, social, technological, environmental and legal context
- The role of accounting in business and the principles of individual and team management within an ethical framework
- Management accounting information for performance planning, financial control and decision-making, the design of accounting systems and preparation of management reports
- The preparation of accounting information and external financial reports for regulatory and decision-making purposes

These qualifications also develop competence in professional skills like:

- complying with legal requirements
- developing professional values
- improving personal effectiveness
- behaving ethically at work
